EMPOWERMENT

Submitted with Love by Rev. Sandy Gallo

Empowerment– Just the sound of the word itself signifies strength and control. To say that you have empowerment implies control of one’s self and/or circumstances. So, what is the actual meaning? The dictionary defines it as “an authority or power given to someone to do something.” An example of this would be a supervisor assigning their employee a specific job to do. In this case, the supervisor is empowering their employee to complete a job for them. Another example is when a person allows another person to make decisions for them. When a person does this, they are giving away their power to others. They no longer have “empowerment” over their own lives. There is another dictionary definition that says “the process of becoming stronger and more confident, especially in controlling one’s life and claiming one’s rights.” This is self-empowerment!

Metaphysically, it is stated that everyone is the authority of their own lives. Each of us are self-empowered which enables us to envision and create what it is we really want in our lives. This is true self-empowerment. This comes from knowing that we are one in God and therefore, equipped to be able to fill our greatest potential and that we are greater than what we ever imagined. This is the I AM presence manifesting through us in all we do and say.

It is important to keep this awareness of who we really are in the forefront of our minds. Not only to remember this Truth but also by keeping our minds focused on what really matters to us. It is very easy to let our minds get waylaid by the news media that bombards us constantly, and by the everyday concerns of our jobs and families. When this happens, we tend to lose sight of our spiritual connection and then it is very easy to fall into negative and confusing thinking. We increasingly lose our power and feel helpless in the face of what is occurring all around us. It transpires so gradually, we aren't even aware that it's happening.

Bringing our minds back to the Truth of who we really are allows us to be closer to the Divine and see truth in all things. We can take what appears to be negative and, by uplifting our perceptions and opening to our "authentic" selves, our lives gain deeper insights and wisdom in every area of our being.

As we continue to refine our perspectives, it allows us to find all life more peaceful and joyous and as we continually awaken to "our truth" in God, we can take more responsibility for what is happening in and around our lives. As this occurs, we are empowered to bring ourselves into closer alignment with our authentic spiritual selves.

EMPOWERMENT

Here are some quotes on the theme of Empowerment:

"You can, you should, and if you're brave enough to start, you will."
– Stephen King

"How would your life be different if . . . You stopped allowing other people to dilute or poison your day with their words or opinions? Let today be the day . . . You stand strong in the truth of your beauty and journey through your day without attachment to the validation of others"
– Steve :

"Be of service. Whether you make yourself available to a friend or co-worker, or you make time every month to do volunteer work, there is nothing that harvests more of a feeling of empowerment than being of service to someone in need."

– Gillian Anderson

"The most courageous act is still to think for yourself. Aloud."
– Coco Chanel

"The process of spotting fear and refusing to obey it is the source of all true empowerment."
– Martha Beck

"You are one thing only. You are a Divine Being. An all-powerful Creator. You are a Deity in jeans and a t-shirt, and within you dwells the infinite wisdom of the ages and the sacred creative force of All that is, will be and ever was."

– Anthon St. Maarten
